is arousing considerable interest among the residents of areas of the USSR. Training has been extended to include the residents of dwelling units, and 40-hour courses in civil defense are given in secondary schools. The scope of training has been widened to include instruction in nuclear weapons and defense against them. 1/

The capability should exist within the USSR to carry out such a program. Support of leading Soviet figures has been committed to this effort 3/ and the Communist Party itself has been enlisted for support. 4/
